PREFACE

Colours fascinate children. Naturally, all coloured things around them hold their attention-be it a living thing like a butterfly, a bird, or a flower, or a non-living thing like a house, a toy, a car or a rainbow. This series of 10 books-Vikas Drawing & Colouring-is aimed at nurturing the innate interest of children in colours and forms by developing in them a liking for drawing and colouring activities.

The books in this series are well-graded to cater to the needs and interests of different age groups ranging from Nursery to Secondary levels. While the introductory book has mostly colouring exercises, the later books concentrate on drawing as well. Of course, common and familiar objects from the child's surroundings are selected to serve as models for the exercises in all the books.

With the advancement in levels, more techniques in both drawing and painting are illustrated and taught. Techniques like colour shading, collage work, mosaic painting, spray painting and mask making are dealt with at different levels. Some of the topics prescribed for the Grade Examinations too have been included in these books. This series, thus, acquaints children with various aspects and modes of art.

Prepared by a versatile artist, who is a very talented art teacher as well, this unique series is intended to arouse the interest of children in art. These are not merely colouring books, but books of creative art, which every student would like to have, and must possess. Let our children have colours filling their world.

NEW TECHNIQUES INTRODUCED IN THIS BOOK

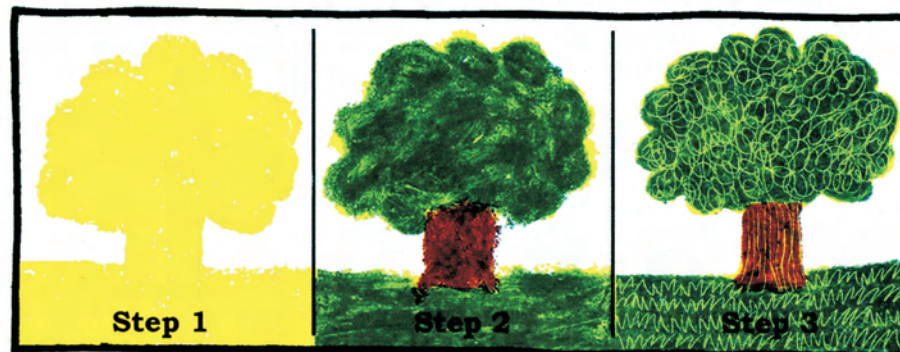

Vikas Drawing and Colouring is a series of 10 books in Art Education with a very fresh look. Prepared for students from KG to Secondary levels, these books are designed with a vision of the interests as well as needs of children at various stages.

Book 2, the fifth book in this series, provides graded drawing and colouring exercises for Std. 2 children. The focus of this book is on training the children to draw pictures independently. To give the exercises a dab of fun, the children are required to create new patterns while colouring the pictures. Repeated practice is needed to acquire skill in techniques like overlapping, scribbling, print-making and collage. So this book provides the children with advanced exercises in these techniques, along with some new techniques like carving on overlapped colours.

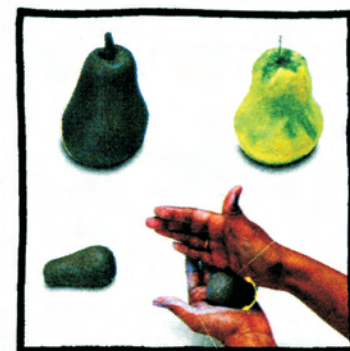

Above all, the clay modelling activities, which began in Book 1, proceed to an advanced stage in this book. All the activities in this book are designed to arouse the innate creativity of children and encourage their artistic capabilities.
